To whom it may concern:

I am writing this recommendation for Sofie Micklisch. Sofie has been a student of mine in the Bachelor's of Supervision and Management program at Florida SouthWestern State College for a number of years.

Sofie's academic work has always been among the best in her class. It is well written, insightful, and is focused on critical thinking skills. In addition, her work was always submitted on or before the due date and she follows the directions in each assignment very carefully. She exhibits great pride in her presentation.

Sofie also shows great leadership skills when working as a part of a group. She is eager to join groups, participates well, and received high marks from her group members on her peer evaluation forms.

If I were looking to hire an excellent employee, Sofie would be high on my list of choices. She is well prepared to enter the work force and she exhibits excellent team work. She has a bright future in the business world.
